

Jack-o-Lantern song

(to hear me singing this ditty, search on youtube.com for Fried-Cassorla Jack-o-lantern or enter <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t0W-3ScisbI>

Once an old pumpkin crew on a green pumpkin vine,

he was round, he was fat, he was yellow.

“No silly jack-o’-lantern shall I make.” he said.

“I’m determined that I’ll be a useful fellow.”

CHORUS:

For the glory of the Jack is in the candle,
from the gate-post where he sits set up
so high,
and the glory of the turkey is the drumstick,
but the glory of the pumpkin is the pie.

So he raised up his head when the cook came around and she chose him at once as the winner.
His fondest wish came true he was proud pumpkin pie
and the glory of the big Thanksgiving dinner.

(repeat chorus)

CHORUS:

For the glory of the Jack is in the
candle,
from the gate-post where he sits set up
so high,
and the glory of the turkey is the
drumstick,
but the glory of the pumpkin is the pie